What is your character most scared of? Can you create an image of it? Are they terrified of spiders? Or are they afraid of the dark?

Let us know by sending us a picture of the thing that terrifies your characters or by sending us a recording of you describing it. Or you could make it using junk or anything you find lying around the house.

We once made a fabulous monster out of kitchen utensils! Perhaps this is an opportunity to play around with shadows: see what shadows you can create using everyday objects which may be the thing that scares your character. Have a play around and see which ones come out the best, then send us some pictures of your creations.
