

EDITOR CHALLENGE

Celebrity Feature

Would you like to interview a celebrity one day?
If so, then try this challenge!

Step 1

Who would you like to interview? It could be a sports celebrity, a pop star or even a superhero – anyone you like!

Step 2

Now think of five questions you would love to ask them. The idea is to end up with five interesting facts, plus an exclusive news story.

Top tips!

- ★ Use open questions so they can't just answer "yes" or "no". So don't ask: "Do you like being famous?" But try: "What's the best thing about being famous?" You'll get a better answer!
- ★ Listen carefully. They might say something exciting that you didn't expect. Feel free to ask questions to find out more.

Step 3

This is where the grown-ups get involved. They will play the part of the celebrity and you will be interviewing them. Make notes as they reveal their facts and pay attention – they might have a big announcement to make! This is called an exclusive!

My Five questions

You will need to write a headline and an introduction (that's the bit that explains the headline). For example:

Headline Five facts about Taylor Swift

Introduction Think you know everything about Taylor? Think again!

Find a picture from a magazine to make your interview look exciting. Your chosen celebrity will be the main image, but you could find smaller pictures to add in as well. So, if they say that they love dogs, you could find a picture of a dog to go with that quote.

Don't forget to listen out for the exclusive story!

Create Two Quizzes!

Learn how to put together some picture quizzes for your reader to do.

TRUE OR FALSE QUIZ

Step 1

Think of a topic for your True or False quiz. Make sure it's something that you really like or know a lot about. You could even make it about yourself!

Step 2

Write instructions for your reader about what they need to do.

Step 3

Write a list of facts. Some should be true, and others should be false. For example, 'Rita Ora is a pop star' (True!). 'Pete Adore Ya is a movie star' (False!).

Step 4

Add the answers to the bottom of the page, then finish off by adding a relevant drawing or picture cut out from a magazine.

FACE MASH-UP QUIZ

Step 1

Now for the Face Mash-up! Cut out and stick three parts of three different faces onto the page. Your reader has to guess the names of the different people.

Step 2

Choose pictures from your Image Pack or find some from a magazine.

Step 3

Stick the three face parts onto your page and write instructions for your reader. Your Face Mash-Up quiz is ready!

Step 4

Write the answers to the quiz at the bottom of the page. Make them small, or even write them upside down. Your reader will check the answers when they have tried the quiz.

EDITOR CHALLENGE

Write A Review!

FIND OUT HOW, HERE!

A review is your opinion of a film or TV show you've seen, or some music you've listened to. It's really fun to write a review as you can be honest and say what you liked or disliked about it!

Step 1

Chose two things you would like to review from this list, or pick your own.

TV

- The Next Step
- The X Factor

Film

- Hotel Transylvania 2
- Minions

Book

- Diary of a Wimpy Kid
- Hetty Feather

Music

- Little Mix
- Ed Sheeran

Website

- www.CBBC.co.uk
- www.CartoonNetwork.co.uk

App

- Minecraft
- Candy Crush

Step 2

Watch, play or listen to the thing you want to review and make some notes.

Top tips!

- ★ Think about how it makes you feel.
- ★ Are there any parts you like or dislike?

- ★ Would you spend money on it or recommend it to a friend?
- ★ Did any parts make you giggle or feel sad?
- ★ Is there anything you wanted to see or happen that didn't?

Step 3

Write an exciting headline and an introduction. For example:

Headline: Best films!
Intro: Stuff we love!

Step 4

When you've got all your notes, you'll be ready to write your reviews.

Top tips!

★ Think of some adjectives to make your review more exciting and interesting. You could try...

- Incredible
- Exciting
- Awesome
- Slow
- Fun
- Disappointing
- Lively
- Amazing

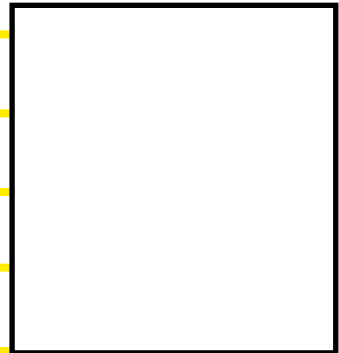

★ Find images to cut out from a magazine or think about what you could draw.

Storytelling

Create your own comic or photo story.
You can make it as funny, romantic or heroic as you want!

Step 1

Choose a comic strip that you want to write a story for:

- CELEBLAND
or
 MR BEAN

Step 2

Look at the pictures and think of a story they could be telling. Use the speech bubbles, thought bubbles and captions to tell the story. Choose your words carefully – you haven't got much space to write in!

GET TO KNOW YOUR COMIC!

Mr Bean

- ★ The comic begins with Mr Bean in his car with Teddy, having just bought a parrot.
- ★ He soon gets the parrot home, where all the fun begins...

CELEBLAND!

- ★ The comic features the boys from One Direction: Niall, Liam, Harry and Louis.
- ★ The random little hedgehog is called Harry the hedgehog.

Top tips!

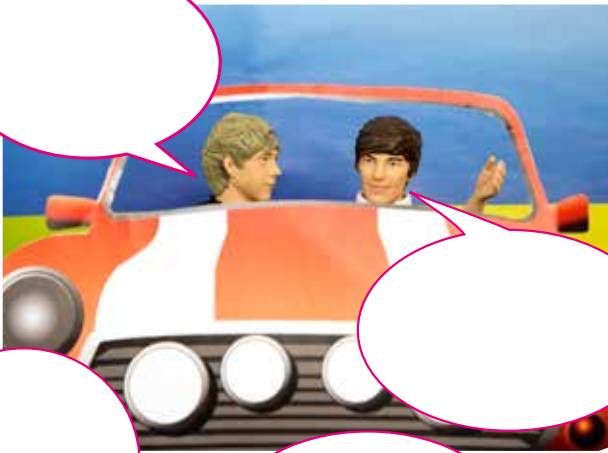

- 1 Write one short sentence in each speech bubble.
- 2 Include some adjectives such as happy, big or smelly!
- 3 Think about your story before you start writing.

Design A Cover

The cover is a very important part of the magazine because it has to make people want to pick it up! Your challenge is to design an attention-grabbing cover!

Step 1

Choose a name for your magazine. Will it be called Girl Talk, MEGA or something different? Think about who your main cover star will be. This will be the biggest picture on the page. You will also need to have a cover line to go with the image. This is a headline that explains why the star is in the magazine. For example:

'We're going bananas for Minions!' or 'Could you join The X Factor?'

Step 2

Choose other pictures to go on your cover. They could be celebrities, animals, cartoon characters – whatever you want!

Step 3

Decide which other words you will have on your cover. You could use speech bubbles or cover lines. Keep them short and get straight to the point.
How much will your magazine cost?
What gift will you have on the cover?

Step 4

Use pictures from your image pack or find photos to cut out from a magazine to add to your cover. Make it exciting and fun so that people will want to pick it up!

TOP TIP:

Only put things on your cover that your readers will want to see and read about.
