

The WHSmith Ultimate Writing Challenge

Author Hilary Robinson challenges you to write

A letter from space

“Imagine that you have travelled into space. Write a letter to someone back home about your out-of-this-world experiences. Think about all the things you might see and do in space. What are the planets like that you’ve visited? Have you met any interesting aliens? What’s different about life in space to life at home? Can you spot your house all the way from space? You can illustrate your letter too.”
